

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

The invention is directed to a method of tissue replacement and repair using a cultured bioremodelable connective tissue construct. The invention is specifically directed to a method for repairing annulus fibrosis of the intervertebral disc, after 5 discectomy surgery where the annulus fibrosis has been opened, with a cultured bioremodelable connective tissue construct.